HANDLE WITH CARE® Behavior Management System

Preschool and Early Elementary and Special Education teachers identify disruptive, self destructive and assaultive behaviors as the most challenging aspects of their jobs and the one for which they feel the least prepared. HWC's Early Childhood Program teaches behavior management and relationship skills that reduce tension and create and maintain a calm and safe learning environment for all.

HWC has been training preschool and K-12 teachers serving children as young as three since 1984.

Handle With Care is recognized by professional regulatory bodies, including:

- IDEIA, ADA and 504
- CARF (The Rehabilitation Accreditation Commission)
- COA (The Council on Accreditation for Children and Family Services)
- Joint Commission (formerly JCAHO) and DOH
- HWC's program complies with all US Rules and Laws regarding the use of holds and time-outs

Our verbal training helps you use the power of your relationship with the child to de-escalate and redirect tension to avoid physical intervention whenever possible. If verbal intervention alone cannot contain behavior, HWC has engineered a proprietary holding method specifically designed for small children known as the "Modified PRT for Smaller Children™". This holding method is safer and more effective than all of the other holds which have been used for young children.

We also teach a Carry Method to transport the child to a safer, quieter space when the child is unwilling or unable to leave the stimulation of the classroom on his own.

Children engaging in challenging behaviors are often looking for assurance that adults are in control of the school environment. The adult cannot put the responsibility on a child to regain inner control once it has been lost. It is our responsibility to ensure and reassure the child that they are safe.

Instructor Certification. We offer a Train-The-Trainer program that enables your in-house Certified Trainers to teach HWC to all of your faculty, aides and administrators.
